International Students Camp - Angahook Holiday Camp – Jan 15th to Jan 17th 2012

The DOSA camp is aimed at overseas students, who live or study in Darebin and have been involved with DOSA during 2011. This year we will be looking for students who display leadership qualities in order to further develop DOSA. The camp aims to provide a fun holiday by the beach as well as the opportunity for DOSA members to get to know each other better, build DOSA as a team and exchange ideas, observations and stories. Not only will this camp be a great holiday experience, but it will be an opportunity for DOSA to come together to dream and build their vision for DOSA's future.

The camp is highly subsidised by the government to make it affordable to participants. The camp is being run by project workers from various agencies as well as peer leaders from within DOSA. It will be held at a fully accredited campsite - Angahook Holiday Camp. The camp will run for 3 days and 2 nights. A range of activities will be held and will include visits to the beach, outdoor activities in the camp's beautiful bush setting, recreational activities such as canoeing and bike riding, team building and brainstorming exercises, as well as cooking, beach, and relaxation time.
